

JOB POSTING

Air Quality Council Coordinator–Contractor Opportunity

The Alberni Air Quality Society (AAQS) seeks a coordinator for the Air Quality Council (AQC).

The AAQS works towards continual improvement of air quality in the Alberni airshed. The society promotes information exchange and directs its activities and programs to the community through staff and volunteers.

The AAQS manages the activities of the Air Quality Council (AQC) through the AQC Coordinator. The society provides the legal framework and financial organization to support its goals.

The AQC is composed of representatives from provincial and regional governments, area Nuu-chah-nulth Nations, businesses, individuals, and community organizations. The AQC provides a forum for these entities to work together to improve health by improving air quality.

The AQC Coordinator will provide the following services: coordination of AQC meetings, project work, and reporting; public education and communication; regional harmonization of air quality initiatives; and assistance with air quality research and problem solving.

This contract is for a one-year term.

The complete job description and qualifications for this position are available at www.acrd.bc.ca under the “What’s New” section.

Applicants are invited to forward their resume by email to Judy Carlson, AAQS Secretary at: judyharoldc@shaw.ca

Deadline for applications is 4:00 pm on October 20, 2017
