ACRD announces release of new interactive Public Web Map

The Alberni-Clayoquot Regional District (ACRD) is making its new interactive web map available to the public.

The new ACRD Public Web Map offers access to mapping technology and allows residents and property owners in the ACRD to find information about individual properties and the Region as a whole.

Through the Public Web Map, people will be able to:

- Search their address and find their legal description and other property information
- Find information on zoning, Official Community Plans, development permit areas, parks, emergency planning, ACRD service areas, and jurisdictional boundaries
- View air photo imagery that is available.

The ACRD's goal in sharing this technology is to provide transparent access to mapping data throughout the Region, promote more engagement with ACRD operations, and build knowledge about the services that the ACRD provides. It offers a reliable and accessible mapping tool for everyone to use, which should lead to a better understanding of the Region.

To check out the Public Web Map yourself, go to www.acrd.bc.ca/maps.

If you have questions or comments, please email mapping@acrd.bc.ca.
